Fire Hits Park Area

A raging cedar brush fire burned out of control for several hours Friday afternoon in Palo Duro Canyon State Park, blackening some 90 acres.

Some 350 Tascosa High School students helped park rangers and employees hold the fire within a limited area until Canyon Volunteer firemen could get to the scene.

The students were evacuated from the area when the firemen arrived. The students had been holding their senior class day celebration in the park when the fire broke out.

Several of the students were overcome with smoke while helping fight the fire and were taken to Neblett Clinic in Canyon for treatment. They were treated and released.

Canyon firemen crossed the creek with one of their heavy water and pumper trucks but were unable to contain the blaze. They set a series of back-fires which aided in holding the fire.

Ranger Hoskins said at 7 p.m. Friday that he thought the fire was under control. He said they were going to let it burn itself out.

Dry weather combined with someone's carelessness to cause a serious brush fire last Friday in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. One of the park's big juniper trees exploded into flames as the fast spreading flames reached its dry branches. The fire burned some 90 acres of the heavy brush across the creek from Cottonwood Grove, one of the favored picnicking spots in the park.

City Adds Ponderosa, Action Is Delayed On Paving, Plumbing Code

Firemen Will Hold Open House Sunday

Canyon Volunteer Fire Department will hold open house Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. with all the department equipment on exhibit.

Each piece of fire fighting equipment will be set up at the fire station with description labels. An attending fireman will explain the purpose of the equipment.

Firemen will demonstrate every hour between 1 and 5 p.m. the 1250 gallon per minute deluge fire nozzle they have mounted on a truck bed platform. The deluge nozzle is used in the event of a large fire such as the one which destroyed the Pharmacy on the downtown square several years ago.

Children will be allowed to sit in the various fire trucks under the supervision of firemen. Refreshments will be served during the open house including Cokes, coffee and cookies for the kids.

Fire captain, Joe Rice, says the purpose of the open house is to acquaint the people of Canyon and the surrounding area with their volunteer firemen and fire fighting equipment. Rice said, "We want the people to become aware of our goal to provide a community that is safe from fire and other hazards."

The volunteers have been preparing for the open house for some two weeks, making labels, planning and designing exhibits and cleaning up the equipment for the show.

City commissioners Monday night annexed Ponderosa Addition.

The 45-acre tract came into the city after some delay as a result of an injunction filed against the developer, Roy Cline of Amarillo.

The injunction sought to prevent the blocking of Sewer Plant Road which runs along the north border of the new addition.

The Ponderosa plat shows the road as an alley. City Attorney A. W. Lair told city commissioners they might be "buying a lawsuit" by annexing the addition before settlement of the injunction.

City officials say an alley does run along the north side of the disputed road. Officials further declare that the alley will remain even if the road were to remain open.

Sewer Plant Road lies about half a block south of Thirteenth Avenue which is to be opened.

Lair insisted that Cline provide written assurance that the city would be held harmless in event of a damage suit growing out of the closing of the road.

Cline also agreed in writing to assure a 25-foot alley in the commercial zone and a 20-foot alley in the residential zone along the disputed road.

The injunction suit was brought by several adjacent property owners.

Ben Monning, Jr., Amarillo, Attorney for Cline, expressed hope that the suit can be settled out of court. He said that if it is not settled he will ask the city to vacate the street into an alley.

In other buisness, commissioners named Paul Lindsey mayor pro tem.

A letter from Jack Taylor was read at the meeting. The letter expressed appreciation to the city and the City Fire Department for assistance during the fire at Taylor & Sons Lumber Company recently.

City Manager Bill York said Taylor sent a check for $100 to the city and donated the price of a fire entry suit to the Fire Department.

Commissioners discussed a plumbing code which would include heating, air conditioning, refrigeration and ventilation. Action was delayed. The code

Wheat Referendum Scheduled Tuesday

Randall County wheat producers will vote at seven different polling places Tuesday of next week in the wheat marketing quota referendum.

Paul Read, manager of the county ASCS office, said the polls will open at 7 o'clock in the morning and close at 7 o'clock that evening.

The voting places are by community as follows (A) the ASCS office in Canyon; (B) Ralph Switch; (C) Jowell School; (D) Knights of Columbus Hall at Umbarger; (E) John Plank's barn; (F) Askco Steel Building Company at 6636 Canyon Road in South Amarillo; and (G) Harold Ladehoff's old home.

To be qualified to vote, a person must be a wheat producer. Producers growing 15 acres or less will be eligible to vote providing he registered by May 13 for that priviledge.

The producer must vote in the community in which he lives or farms. Generally, a producer and his wife may vote if their wheat production is a family undertaking.

Read said that the referendum is to decide whether marketing quotas will be in effect. He said there will be wheat allotments whether the proposition carries or not. Two thirds of those voting must vote yes if the referendum is to carry.

Tuesday's vote will come at the close of a spirited campaign by ASCS and Department of Agriculture officials for a yes vote in the referendum.

The forthcoming wheat referendum is only for the 1964 crop.

A yes vote on the referendum would provide that a producer having wheat in excess of his farm allotment be subject to a penalty for the excess production. It would provide that producers remaining within their allotments be eligible for a price support loan of $2.00 per bushel on 80 percent of their normal yield and about $1.30 on any remaining production.

A no vote on the referendum would provide that no penalties be levied for acres in excess of allotment and a price support loan of about $1.24 per bushel available to producers remaining within their allotments.

A no vote would abolish marketing quotas and wheat produced on farms remaining in excess of the farm allotment would not be eligible for any price support.

If marketing quotas are approved, producers will be offered land diversion payments on the 10 per cent mandatory reduction plus additional acres voluntarily diverted, not to exceed 20 percent of allotment.

The fish rodeo will be held from 1 o'clock until 5 o'clock Bait will be furnished. Only worms may be used.

Rittenberry said only one fishing pole will be permitted per contestant.

Rittenberry said the fishing hole may be reached by way of the City Club Road. He said the road will be adequately marked.

Sureties Request Release From Bond

Dewey Hicks, Amarillo builder charged in a double slaying, still was trying to make bond Wednesday.

Hicks was returned to Randall County jail Friday afternoon after two men on his bond asked that they be released.

Bonds were set at $25,000 each on two counts of murder shortly after the New Year slaying in South Amarillo of Joseph Richard Damron, 73, and his son Joseph William Damron, 44. Bonds were set by Justice of the Peace Bill Wilson.

Charles M. Walker and E. W. Barnard, bondsmen for Hicks, sought to be released from the bonds Friday and Hicks was placed in Randall County jail.

Earlier last week a 47th District Court jury found Hicks sane.

In a conference with District Attorney Truett Hull and Defense Counsel George McCarthy Wednesday, Judge Gene Jordan said the bonds would remain the same as set by Judge Wilson.

Hicks shortly after noon Wednesday expressed confidence that he would be freed on bond.

Doug Rittenberry, Jr., tries his luck with the old fishing pole at the pond on the Rittenberry farm where the annual Jaycees Fishing Rodeo will be held this Saturday.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

The wheat referendum comes up Tuesday. It is probably one of the most important questions upon which the American farmer has been called upon to vote in recent years.

We think it is important that those who are qualified vote in this referendum.

We wouldn't attempt to tell anyone how to vote. We only ask that those who vote weigh the issues, think of the traditional freedom of the American farmer and vote their conscience.

We have never advocated overnight abandonment of all agricultural programs in this ecomony fraught with subsidies. However, we do believe that if we are to move back to a more nearly free enterprise system it must be across the whole face of our economy.

Last week we had a long talk with Webber Pool, member of the state ASCS committee from Sinton. Although he like most ASCS officials was strongly for a "yes" vote in Tuesday's referendum, he agreed that somewhere we must put on the brakes in our headlong rush toward an economy controlled completely by Washington.

Frank Triplett, head of Producers Grain Corporation of Amarillo, says the so-called farm surplus is to an extent a myth.

He pointed out in a speech here this week that we have only a 5-month supply of feed grains. He said we wouldn't make enough wheat to fill our needs this year.

Triplett also pointed out that much of the funds charged to the farm program actually provide benefits for the consumer, rather than the producer.

He also noted that federal participation in school lunch programs are charged to the farm program cost. A home demonstration agent in the Bronx who never saw a cow in her life gets her pay from the Department of Agriculture.

We had a request that we find out from ASCS about possible fines and jail sentences under the new ASCS program proposed in the referendum. Paul Read, manager of the Randall County ASCS office, assured us that such penalties could be imposed only in cases of fraud.

However, we read in Farm & Ranch Magazine of a jail sentence being imposed on a North Dakota farmer as a result of action brought by ASCS. This is not a very good answer to the question but is the best we could provide.

Reading of the riot in the flats (Negro section) of Amarillo, we couldn't help remembering another riot there in years gone by.

We were on the police beat in Amarillo at the time and the Negro deputy sheriff was a lad by the name of Stonewall Jackson. Stoney was a mighty man, much feared and respected by those whom it was his duty to keep in line.

One night-- it was on a New Year's Eve--a riot broke out when all the merrymakers at a dance decided they wanted their hats and coats at one time. Everyone wanted to be first.

Stoney was called. He didn't say a word. He rolled three tear gas bombs sans pins under the crowd. It was three days before they regained interest in their hats and coats.

Hilltop Views

I am thinking today of J. Edgar Hoover's frequent warnings to the American people that moral standards in this country are on an alarming decline. I think he knows what he is talking about, and I thank Good he has the courage to speak out and pinpoint the evidence. If we as a people refuse or fail to heed what the F. B. I. chief tells us and we fall into decay from within it will not be the fault of Mr. Hoover and it will be a perfect contribution to communism.

The fact is, we don't have to learn our declining moral condition from any one. All who have eyes can see for themselves that the average American today has a less keen conscience than formerly. Law-enforcement officers, the courts, and all our news media proclaim the evidence almost hourly.

If this be true, what are the causes? Well, a book could be written in answer to that question. I shall mention only one or two.

Many good people are suffering moral erosion under the influence of a rapidly changing world. We laugh at "horse and buggy times" along with which went "Old Time Religion" and its accompanying strict moral code. Even our churches are softening toward specific sins. They are just against sin as a whole, or in general. We rarely hear the pulpit denounce immorality, dishonesty in business, or in public office, intemperance and the like. Maybe our ministers are being taught in our seminaries that the old time approach to evil is negative and only makes people mad--better have a positive approach that doesn't get on anyone's pet sin.

Let it be admitted that you can get more people into the church that way and keep them there longer, but will the average member be more dedicated to moral and spiritual values? Will he be more obedient to the laws of his country, more frank and honest with his business patrons? In short, will his religion function plainly in his private and/or public life? Do his neighbors point to him as a Christian who practices what he professes to believe? Does he have the courage to stand up against evil doers or does he hide behind that wall of defense which is contained in the oft-repeated saying that "things have changed?"

Of course, no one denies that many, many things have changed, but the most priceless values are the same to-day as 2000 years ago. The Sermon on the Mount has not changed. The truths contained in our Declaration of Independence have not changed. Man has the same moral standards by which to be guided today as the best men had in all the years past. That things have changed is a very poor argument when moral questions are involved.

Another evidence of our moral erosion is our nationwide disobedience to law. The traffic situation is a good illustration; and we don't have to leave Canyon to see the speed law shattered to pieces. I notice the legislature has recently raised to 70 miles per hour the maximum speed limit. I don't see the point. Already half the traffic was exceeding that speed on major highways. They can now make it to 90 or 100 without let or hindrance and the already fast rising traffic fatalities will get another shot in the arm.

Another evidence of moral erosion is the acceptance by many good people of that old fallacy that the liquor interests planted back in the days of prohibition--restricting the sale and use of intoxicants only makes more people thirsty. They say a free man doesn't like to have his freedom limited by law and that when this takes place he willfully violates the law.

Answer: We have had a law against killing buzzards in Texas longer than I can remember. How often are you tempted to kill one?

Year End Concert Held By Canyon School Bands

The final concert for the Bands of Canyon Public Schools was held Monday evening at the high school auditorium. Bands from the fifth grade, sixth grade, junior high, and high school on the program were directed by Lee Boyd Montgomery, Jr.

Fifth grade band members began band last September and practiced in two different classes throughout the school year. They practiced together one time prior to the concert and did an exceptionally fine job. They played "Merry Widow Waltz," "Serenade," "Red River Valley," and the "Band Boy March." Gary Moore, Bobby Brotherton, Johnnie Burrell and Arnold Stork were a cornet quartet featured in the tune "Tom, Dick, Harry, and Mert."

Musical selections played by the sixth grade band were "Caisson Song March," "Rip Van Winkle," "Waltz Festival," "Mexican Sundae," and "Just Rollin'."

Lee Boyd Montgomery directed the Junior High Band for "Concert March," "Firework Music," and "King Size March." The Junior High Band was directed by Charles Nail, student teacher, on the number "Balladair." Billy Burklow, student teacher, directed the "Little Scotch Suite" for the Junior High Band members.

The "Sweepstakes Trophy" winners from Canyon High School at the recent Interscholastic Band Contests played several songs that won them the honor. Musical numbers played by the High School Concert Band were "Bravura March," "Unfinished Symphony, 1st Movement," "Spiritual from Symphony 5 and a half," "Bossa Nova," "Reverie," "Sol Y Sombra March," and the "Canyon School Song."

John Brantley played a French horn solo during the "Spiritual from Symphony 5 and a half."

The Band King and Queen who were crowned at the Band Banquet last Saturday night were recognized on the program. Miss Lynne Larson was the Queen and Jimmy Innes the King.

Miss Larson was also the winner of the John Phillip Sousa Award which is given each year to an outstanding senior student in the band for musical ability, scholastic rating, cooperation, and general excellence in all activities.

Youngsters Injured In Accident

A one car turn-over Sunday afternoon in Palo Duro Canyon State Park resulted in four teenagers receiving minor cuts and bruises. They were taken to Neblett Clinic in Canyon where they were treated and released.

Stanley Prichard 17, of 412 Foster Lane, driver of the car; Judy Stevenson 17, of 1216 4th Avenue, Canyon, Ruth Ann Purcell 17, of 4809 Arden Rd., Amarillo and Wiley Thomas 17, of 3715 Fountain Terrace, Amarillo, were in the car at the time of the accident. They were on their way to a Sunday afternoon picnic in the park when the accident occurred.

Investigating highway patrolmen said the car missed the curve between the park gate and the concessions building, left the road, skidded on the gravel shoulder, blew a rear tire and flipped over coming to rest in the center of the park road.

Park rangers detoured traffic around the road until the wreck could be removed. Ambulances and fire units were called to the scene as a precautionary measure.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Taylor over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Taylor of Dallas.

WHAT A TV SET COST 25 YEARS AGO

If someone complained that a TV set costs more today than 25 years ago, you'd lift an eyebrow. 25 years ago, there were no TV sets at any price.

For the same reason, it isn't logical to say, "Prescriptions cost more today than they used to." Most of today's drugs weren't available 25 years ago. In fact, over three quarters of the prescriptions written today, are for drugs that didn't exist ten years ago.

Today, Americans spend only one cent from every disposable dollar on drugs. This is no more than in 1939. Also today's drugs work faster. They are more efficient. They do much to reduce your total cost of illness. That's why we say, "Today's prescription is the biggest bargain in history."

AC's Bob Dibler Inks Contract With Buffs

The sparkplug of the Amarillo College Badgers, Bob Dibler, has signed an athletic scholarship agreement with West Texas State's basketball coach Jimmy Viramontes.

Dibler led the Badgers to the national junior college basketball tournament for the first time since 1951 and reaped many honors during or after his sophomore year of playing collegiate basketball.

The 6-0 guard scored 21.2 points per game for his seasonal average and then exploded for a 24-point per game pace during the three national tournament tilts.

"We signed Bob because he's the kind of boy who can break open a game with six or seven baskets in a row," said Viramontes.

Dibler was an All-western Junior College Conference selection along with being selected to all-tournament teams during the Region V and national tourneys.

The slender southpaw was the co-captain of the AC Badgers and played his high school basketball for the Amarillo High Sandies.

With the addition of Dibler, the total of junior college transfers signed with WT for next season was upped to three. The others are 6-8 Max Courtney from Clarendon Junior College, and 6-5 and one half Kirby Pugh of San Angelo JC. Pugh was selected to the first team All-America choices.

According to Coach Viramontes, the varsity is set in that there probably won't be any more new recruits coming in unless a really exceptional player comes on the scene.

The varsity presently consists of 11 players including junior college transfers. The varsity team is allowed to have 12 members and the quota will be filled after the fall semester of the next season as Dickie Dickerson enrolled at West Texas at mid-term and is behind the other freshmen by a semester. He will play frosh ball during the fall term and varsity ball in the spring.

The basketball program is granted 20 scholarships and to date there are 11 varsity scholarships and five for the freshman team, leaving four more to supplement the next freshman team's roster.

Another freshman is due to visit the WT campus this week end. He is 6-0 Wallace Franklin from Lamesa of the AAA conference. Franklin averaged 23 points per game in high school while his Lamesa team hustled their way to the regional meet two of the three years that he played at that prep school. He played on the starting team from his freshman year on and averaged 22 points per game as a junior.

Franklin is a fast runner as he has run the 100 yard dash in 10.2 seconds. One of his most outstanding accomplishments is the fact that he played in the high school all-star basketball game at Houston where the cream of the crop meet on the hardwood.

As for the varsity, there will be two seniors, four juniors, and four sophomores on the next varsity squad to perform in the West Texas fieldhouse. Dickerson will be the fifth sophomore at mid-term.

The current varsity roster for the 1963-64 roundball season shapes up: Frank Schaffer, 6-8, Sr.; Scottie Pierce, 6-7, Sr.; Max Courtney, 6-8, Jr.; Dale Burrows, 6-7, Jr., Kirby Pugh, 6-5 and one-half, Jr.; Bob Dibler, 6-0, Jr.; David Shearod, 6-6, Soph.; Marvin Mitchell, 6-3, Soph.; Gail Simpson, 6-0, Soph., and Joe McWilliams, 5-9, Soph.

Cards Trip Giants 6—5

The Cardinals beat the Giants 6 to 5 Saturday in the second game of the season for the Babe Ruth League.

The Cardinals had 6 runs on 5 hits and one error and the Giants had 5 runs on 3 hits and two errors.

Winning pitcher was Tom Lair with a 2-0 average. Losing pitcher was Bruce Winn with a 0-2 average.

Phil Huckaba led off with a single for the Cardinals. Stan Hicks walked in during the top of the 1st inning for the Cards.

After Mike Barris struck out, Gary Winters hit a 3 run homer over the left field fence making the score 3-0 for the Cardinals. Lair had two singles.

Lair struck out 11 batters and walked 3 in 5 innings. Winters struck out 4 in 2 innings and walked 7. Winn struck out 15 and walked 1 for the Giants.

League standings:

	win	lose	%
Cardinals	2	0	1.000
Happy	2	0	1.000
White Sox	1	1	0.500
Umbarger	1	1	0.500
Giants	0	2	0.000
Pirates	0	2	0.000

McInturff Leads Point Scorers

David McInturff used his most prolific output of the season to shoot farther ahead in the most points scored race on the West Texas State track team after three meets.

McInturff tallied 11 points on two seconds and a leg on the second-place WT sprint relay team to bring his season total up to 27 points. In all, he has accounted for almost one-third of the Buff cindermen's 88 points scored in their three meets.

Joe Blocker, speedy sprinter, remained second in the standings with 15 points while Pete Pedro gained with 13 and three-fourths points. Dennis Flanagan has 8 to his credit while Jackie Burns has 6 and one-fourth.

Close behind Burns follows Earl West and Wilton Manley who each have 6 markers for the season. Arnold Skiles' 4 points and James Pope's 2 rounds out the scoring with the nine trackmen. The current team scoring average for the season is 29.33 points per meet.

The next competition for the Buffs comes this weekend at Abilene in the annual West Texas Track and Field Federation track meet.

City. . .

was recommended by the plumbing board.

Action on delinquent taxes involving some 25 property owners delinquent three years or more was delayed for further study.

A low bid by W. S. Darley & Company of Melrose Park, Ill., was accepted for two fire entry suits at $329.95 each. The city will pay for one suit and the fire department will pay for one.

Artesia Fire Equipment Company was awarded the bid on several minor pieces of equipment for the fire department. A fire department committee was authorized to shop for a pump.

Flexible Sewer Rod Company was awarded the bid for a sewer rodder at $3,478.80. The purchase was made on a 30-day trial basis and the price includes a fee for training city personnel to operate the new piece of machinery.

No action was taken on paving bids which York said ran about 14 percent higher than last year. Five blocks are proposed for paving this year as compared to 35 last year, he noted. This makes the unit price much higher.

A special meeting of the commission has been called for next week for discussion of paving.

Buff Ends Will Have Experience Next Fall

By MIKE MOON

With everyone of the 1962 ends returning for the 1963 West Texas State football team, Coach Jack Harris feels that the experience will aid the Buffs in that phase of the team.

"The end position is the smallest on the entire team," lamented Harris. "But we've got four varsity members back for next year and two freshmen that received varsity experience. Jim Ostrander, Quinton Eppinette, Bruce Kimery, and Woody Gilliland, the top four ends are back."

"We won't be a whole lot bigger than last year, about the same size," added Harris. "One of our strong points is our pass receiving, all of our ends are good pass receivers. They have adequate speed but they're not real fast."

Following are facts and coaches' comments on the ten players at the end position:

BILL ALDRIDGE: Bill is 6-0 and 195. He will be a sophomore next season and he had some experience with the varsity although he didn't get to play in many games. Aldridge is a good pass receiver and is good on defensive play, also. He hails from Midland.

JOHN COOK: Cook started in spring training after serving his term in the Marine Corps. He played his freshman ball at West Texas preceeding going into the service. He also has been pointed out as a good pass receiver and defensive man and is expected to work out fine for the team next fall. He is a 5-11, 188-pound right end from Phillips.

QUINTON EPPINETTE: A former fullback, Eppinette made the conversion successfully and was a starter at end. He is a good defensive end and can catch the ball well. He was one of the real dependable ball players in 1962 and he should have a great year in 1963. Eppinette plays right end, hails from Dumas, and is 6-0, 190.

WOODY GILLILAND: Gilliland has been tabbed as one of the best blockers on the entire team, he will be a junior next fall and has earned one letter. He was converted from guard to end last season and he was hurt a good portion of the season but did a fine job when he was in there. Woody plays right end, stands 6-2, and weighs 200 pounds. We feel that Woody will be a standout end.

AL JOHNSON: Johnson will be a sophomore next fall and is from Rutherford, New Jersey. He has three years to play at WT and he should play a lot of football. He is 6-1, 190.

BRUCE KIMERY: Another converted guard, Kimery is a Dallas junior (next fall). Kimery has one letter after making the change to end and did a real fine job doing it. He has a real keen mind and is very dependable -- he will do anything you ask him to on the football field. He plays left end and is 6-2, 195. With a year's experience as end, he should do better in 1963.

JIM OSTRANDER: Jim is a transfer from Chaffey Junior College and will be a senior next year. Ostrander earned a varsity letter at WT last year and started at left end. He is 6-0 and 185. The Barstow, Calif. senior is tabbed as a fine all-around player. Among his 1962 accomplishments, he intercepted a pass during the Bowling Green game and returned it 76 yards for a touchdown. Probably one of the most important things he did in a single game was when he caught the two-point conversion pass from Corkey Dawson to tally the winning two points gainst Ohio University in the Sun Bowl tilt.

TIM SZENDERSKI: He will be a junior next season and is a junior college transfer from Fort Scott of Kansas. Tim was the largest end on the squad but he was hurt most of the time during spring training and the coaches didn't get much of a chance to see just what he had. Szenderski was highly-recommended from junior college and is 6-1, 205. His home town is Toledo, Ohio. With his junior college experience and his time at West Texas, he should develop into a great end.

BUTCH WALTERSCHEID: A fairly local boy, Butch hails from nearby Hereford. He will be a sophomore and did play sparingly with the varsity squad. He is the fastest end on the team, and is a great defensive end and pass receiver. He plays right end and is 6-0, 200. Before he leaves West Texas, Walterscheid will be one of the finest ends in West Texas State history.

ARTIE YOUNG: Another player from Rutherford, N.J., Young will be a sophomore next fall and is 6-0, 200. He was hurt during spring practice and the coaches couldn't appraise his efforts. He has lots of determination and should be a fine end in the next three years.

Cage Club Elects Scott

James Scott was elected president of the newly-organized booster club for West Texas State basketball in a luncheon meeting Friday at the 700 Club in Amarillo.

Other officers chosen were Joe Fortenberry, vice-president; Don Briggs, secretary; and Bob Bellah, treasurer.

Anyone interested in winning a free year's membership to the boosters club can do so by submitting the winning name for the group. The person suggesting the name adopted will receive the membership for one year, worth $10.

Jimmy Viramontes, new head coach for West Texas State University's first cage troupe, and Dr. James P. Cornette, president of WT, spoke to the 75 followers in attendance.

David McInturff Paces Buffs In Denver Meet

David McInturff led the 10-man West Texas State track and field team to eight medals in last week end's Denver Invitational track meet at Denver.

McInturff placed second in two events and helped the Buff sprint relay team to a second place finish. Although team points were not counted for the invitational, the Buffs unofficially garnered 30 points.

The scoring was paced by the University of Colorado with WT, Colorado State U., and Denver University on even terms, in the best showing by the Buff cindermen in the three meets held so far this season.

Wyoming managed the least amount of points of the teams entered, and Idaho State and the Air Force Academy did not show up at the meet, although they were invited.

McInturff took a second in the broad jump with a leap of 22-4, and in the high hurdles he ran a 14.7 in the 120-yards long event that was run into a stiff 20-mile an hour wind. The winner of the race has recently won the Texas Relays title and second in the Kansas Relays in that event.

West Texas's 440-yard relay team set the oval ablaze in taking second place with the hot time of 41.9 seconds to set an unofficial school record.

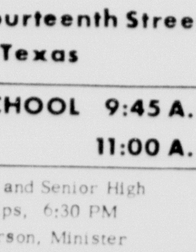

The relay team consisted of Pete Pedro, Joe Blocker, Earl West, and McInturff. The high wind also hampered Pedro's performance and time in the century as he placed third with the time of 10.3 seconds. Wilton Manley nailed down another third with his toss of 47-6 in the shot put.

Fourth places garnered by the trackmen included Dennis Flanagan's 20-9 effort in the broad jump; Blocker's 22.3 clocking in the 220-yard dash; and the WT mile relay team of Blocker, Flanagan, Jackie Burns, and McInturff who turned the oval four times in the time of 3:23.5.

One fifth place was earned by a WT contestant. Earl West captured a fifth in the 120-yard high hurdles to round out the scoring, medals, and overall fine performance by Coach Howard White's fast-improving athletes.

Band Royalty Named At Annual Banquet, Prom

Lynne Larson and Jimmy Innes were crowned band queen and king at the annual band banquet and prom which was held last Saturday night in the cafeteria at West Texas State University.

Presenting the king and queen was Lawrence Lewis, band king of last year. The contestants entered through a grass hut of purple and gold in the ballroom of the Student Union Building. Other entries in the contest were Gracie Williams, Mary Ann Wheelock, Janie Burk, Elo Myers, Billy Cawthon, and Rob Barnard.

Miss Larson was also honored with the John Phillip Sousa Band Award which is presented to one member of the senior class who has done outstanding work with the band. The award is based on character, scholarship, cooperation, dependability, and musical ability.

Bill Tregoe of Lubbock was the main speaker at the banquet. He is the former director of the Pampa Band. He was introduced by Lee Boyd Montgomery, band director at Canyon High School.

A wristwatch was presented to Lee Boyd Montgomery by members of the band in appreciation for the fine job he did with the Band during the school year.

Mrs. Lee Reeves, president of the Band Parents Organization, was the toastmistress for the banquet.

Special music at the banquet was presented by Tae Rim Kim, Korean student at West Texas State University, who played several numbers on the Hawaiian guitar and sang.

The banquet room was decorated in a Hawaiian theme. Centerpiece on the head table was arranged around the "Sweepstakes Trophy" which was won by the band during the recent Interscholastic Band Contests held in Canyon. Arranged around the trophy were miniature palm trees, flowers and candles.

Tables in the banquet room were centered with miniature islands which held grass huts, palm trees and flowers. Place cards for the banquet had a Hawaiian flower attached along with the name. The programs were shaped like a pineapple in yellow with green leaves.

The Ka-Does, a five-piece band, from Clovis provided music for the Prom which was held in the Ballroom of the Student Union Building. Reggie Reeves served as the master of ceremonies.

Decorations on the raised bandstand were palm trees, and around the bottom was a fish-net laid with flowers and seashells. The walls featured grass skirts and pineapple which were hung around the room.

Games were provided for parents and students who did not dance. Cokes were served at intermissions in the Prom.

Decorations for the banquet were directed by Mrs. B. R. Sparks. Other committee members were Mesdames E. J. Larson, John Hardaway, Bob Bellah, LeRoy Pitt, Wayne Wirt, B. L. Hufnagle, Glenn Sparkman, and T. S. Stevenson, Jr.

Lawrence Lewis, left, crowns Lynne Larson as the Band Queen at the High School Band Banquet held last Saturday night while Jimmy Innes, Band King, looks on. Lewis was the Band King last year.

Sharp is preparing to enter the ministry soon. He is married and has one daughter. Before coming to West Texas State University, he was employed for 15 years with the Cities Service Oil Company of Sublette, Kansas.

Boone McClure, secretary of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society and curator of the Panhandle Plains Museum, gives a speech before the society at their annual meeting and banquet in the West Texas University cafeteria Friday night. McClure spoke on the museum and its values to the community.

KEEPING UP WITH THE ARTS

With the hot weather, space travel, and just May in general, things have become quite complex in the world.

We must be prepared for all kinds of new fangled ideas, but this book review that came to my attention this past week was rather weird even if you are prepared for new fangled ideas.

This new book is called The Space Child's Mother Goose (Simon & Schuster). It is illustrated by Marion Parry. The verses are by Frederick Winsor.

The review starts out by saying Laying Eggs in the Relative-When. Mother Goose Out There is another title tagged to the review.

Now I will give you an example of the new space age Mother Goose verse:

Probable - possible, my black hen,
She lays eggs in the Relative When.
She doesn't lay eggs in the Positive Now
Because she's unable to Postulate How.

The review goes on to say, "Did you ever think you would need a glossary to read Mother Goose?" (Hyperspace--space of more than three dimensions; neat for galacteal travelers.")

Well, all I can say is, I must bridge the gap in my space education.

In another book called This Universe of Space by Peter M. Millman, the viewpoint is to outmode the idea of sky. It is a universe of energy rather than matter.

A book by Willy Ley is called Satellites, Rockets and Outer Space. It gives a historical background of space flight and the general principles which make it possible. He describes the preparations for Apollo. This project is supposedly the one to place the first man on the Moon by 1970.

In 1960, the paperbacks had become such a dazzling art form that an exhibit called "Paperbacks U.S.A." showing all of the use of type, the symbolic shapes and abstractions, plus realistic design was shown to the public. However, in 1961 and 62, the graphic arts took a tumble and actually didn't measure up to previous art levels. It has always been the theory that book covers sold books, but now it doesn't matter what the book is about as long as it has a "quality" cover. Perhaps you should always look inside . . . and read the title . . . or if the title throws you, buy the book and be surprised!

Do you have any seven cent nickels? (1942-45) These nickels contained silver in their alloy instead of today's formula of 25 per cent nickel, and 75 per cent copper.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Thomas recently were Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Connell of Sylvia, Kansas.

The Connell family will move to Canyon in early June.

County Agent's Column

There is now posted in the Randall County Courthouse on the bulletin board on the ground floor a proclamation by Governor Connally about the brucellosis program for Randall County.

This proclamation is number 208. It designates Randall County as a Type II Brucellosis Control area on and after August 20, 1963.

Along with this proclamation the date for a hearing which is provided by the control law is set. This hearing will be held on July 1, 1963, at 9:30 A. M. in the Office of the Texas Animal Health Commission, 1020 State Office Building, Austin, Texas. Cattle owners of Randall County may appear in person or by representative to present evidence as to why this program should not be instituted. The Commission will consider all evidence both for and against and will issue their finding within 10 days after the close of the hearing.

Time is near for the May 21 referendum when wheat growers of the nation will go to the polls to determine the kind of a program they want in 1964. A two-thirds favorable vote or a negative vote by more than a third of the voters would be required to make the program determination. The first alternative which will require a favorable or "Yes" vote by at least two-thirds of voters, as established by law, sets a national marketing quota of at least 1 billion bushels; a national acreage allotment with no minimum; sets price support at 65 to 90 percent of parity on the allocations; sets voluntary land diversion payments for diverted acres.

The provisions established by the Secretary of Agriculture include a national marketing quota of 1.22 billion bushels; a national acreage allotment of 49.5 million acres; allocations, about 80 percent of the normal production of a farm's allotment would be calssed as "certificate" wheat and be supported at $2 (national average) per bushel. The other 20 percent will be supported at $1.30 per bushel. Normal production is defined as average annual yield for the years 1958-62.

In absence of proven yields, county ASCS committee will determine yield for farm. Land diversion will be 10 percent of the 1963 allotment and payment for land diversion has been set at 30 percent of the county support rate for mandatory diversion and 50 percent for voluntary diversion.

If the second alternative is chosen, most of the provisions of the first alternative will be dropped. Price support under the second alternative will be 50 percent of parity--about $1.20 per bushel--for those planting within their allotments and the 49.5 million acre national allotment will continue in effect.

Notaries Must Requalify For Posts Says Lair

T. H. Lair, Randall County Clerk, said Monday that Secretary of State Crawford C. Martin has announced that all qualified Notaries Public desiring re-appointment for the new term ending June 1, 1965, must re-qualify by the payment of the required fee and the filing of a new oath and bond with the county clerk in the county of his residence between June 1 and June 10.

Lair said that Martin emphasized Notaries Public should not send requests for re-appointment or for commissions directly to the secretary of state. The state law specifically requires that county clerks approve notary bonds, Lair said.

He said that any person not now a Notary Public who desires appointment should apply to his county clerk between April 1 and May 20. Application during this period will insure prompt attention before the rush procedure of re-appointing present Notaries.

The Secretary of State further pointed out that each person applying for a commission as a notary public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the county for which he was appointed. Lair added that the exact name and permanent address of the applicant must also be furnished the county clerk.

Girl Scout Troop 7 recently held a skating party at Playmore Roller palace in Amarillo. The girls took a sack lunch and played games later at Ellwood Park in Amarillo.

Mrs. Clifford Prichard is the leader of the group.

Visitors attending the outing were Lynn Pond, Jan Sternenberg and Barbara Allan. Helping with transportation for the group was Mrs. Gilbert Ray and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Echols.

Girl Scouts attending were Patsy Dorris, Lynda Edwards, Sandra Henscheid, Ametha Lindley, Retha Pope, Lola Prichard, Demaris Stevens, Debbie White, Linda Ray, Debbie Stover, Linda Dudenhoeffer, Martha Echols and Sally Whallen.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McMurtry of Clarendon visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor last week and the group attended a performance of the "Music Man" which was being presented at West Texas State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Upfold visited in Clovis, New Mexico recently with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gaines and Mrs. Fannie Harlin.

Cornette Named Head Of Historical Group

Dr. James P. Cornette was elected president of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society Friday at the 42nd Annual Meeting and Banquet of the society. Dr. Cornette, who is president of West Texas University, will head the society during the 1963-64 year.

Other officers for the new year are Dr. Ed McKay of Amarillo vice-president; with H. R. Budke of Amarillo, second vice-president. Boone McClure, curator of the Panhandle Plains Museum, is the executive secretary of the society.

Featured speaker for the banquet Friday night in the university cafeteria was Boone McClure.

McClure spoke to the society on the Panhandle Plains Museum pointing up its value as an educational and recreational institution. He said it was internationally recognized as the "Cowboy Museum of America" by reputation if not by name.

McClure defined a museum as an institution for those seeking both enlightenment and entertainment. He said the museum strives to supply something for both of these interests.

"There is not an outstanding university in the nation that does not have a museum for both of these interests.

"There is not an outstanding university in the nation that does not have a museum on its campus," he said.

"We would like to see a more successful educational program in the museum," he said.

He urged teachers who bring school children through the museum to give more than a week's notice and to try, if possible, to bring smaller groups with less age spread.

"The museum is doing a good job on the college level because of the good cooperation between the college faculty and the museum," he said.

McClure spoke with special emphasis on the museum's need for additional space saying, "Even our storage space is overflowing. We've got one storage room we can't even get into," he said.

McClure finished his talk with a history of the museum and its achievements, mentioning several valuable art collections recently donated to the museum.

He said the museum was originally started by the pioneers of the region who saw the improtance of preserving their way of life for future generations.

He concluded with an appeal to the society members to acquaint themselves with the museum programs and to offer help and suggestions for its improvement and expansion.

McClure told the society members of the progress towards financing the proposed wing for the museum. He said the state had agreed to put up $30,000 towards its construction and that individuals such as Senator Grady Hazelwood had made personal donations towards the project.

Dr. McKay gave McClure a $1000 check for the new wing after McClure had finished his talk.

Outgoing president Jack Taylor introduced Dr. Cornette. Dr. Cornette promised the group that they would see the new wing constructed but that it would be up to them to get it done. He told them it was their job to do it.

Reports were heard from members of the society during the Friday afternoon business meeting in the museum after the election of Dr. Cornette as president.

All the original board members of the society were re-elected as well as 15 new members of the board. Newly elected Canyon board members are Ray Campbell, Arch Hunsley, Clarence Thompson and Grady Hazlewood.

The Texas Employment Commission has temporarily discontinued having Mr. Paul Williams at the Farm Bureau Office on Mondays. There have not been enough calls for labor to justify Williams being here each Monday afternoon.

Williams will drop by the office when in the vicinity and will pick up any requests for labor. If, therefore, you have any requests call them in to the Farm Bureau Office. Or if you wish you may call Amarillo direct at Drake 2-5521. We hope that this service may be continued again when enough requests for labor come in.

Our Office secretary, Mrs. Louise Knox, spent most of last week at Farm Bureau Office Secretary School in Waco. Automation has caught up with the Waco office and IBM equipment has been installed.

Within the next few months membership cards are to be coordinated with insurance services so that both the membership and service can be closely checked. It is believed better service will result from Waco and the local County offices with this improved type of record keeping.

With the growth of Farm Bureau and its services must come closer cooperation between the county and the Waco Office.

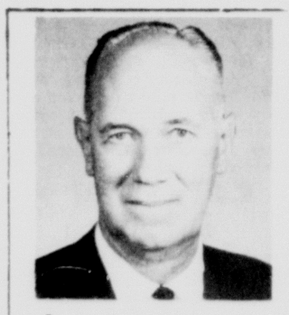

Training of personnel in the local County Office will increase the efficiency and give better service to the membership. Your Randall County Farm Bureau is meeting all these new State requirements.

Farmers Told Weather May Handle Surpluses

A surplus in grain does not exist.

This declaration came Tuesday night from Frank Triplett, manager of Producers Grain Corporation, as he spoke at a stockholders' meeting of Consumers Fuel & Elevator Association at Canyon Elementary School.

He noted that there will be no carry over of wheat this year and that there is only a 5-month supply of feed grains on hand.

"Old man weather will take care of surpluses," he declared. "We're not going to produce as much wheat this year as we'll use."

Triplett said he certainly is for government programs but that such programs should be worked out in as much as possible by the farmers themselves.

"Freeman is a good fellow," the speaker went on, "But he knows less about things pertaining to farming than anyone I know. He nominated Kennedy for President and Kennedy thought about him as secretary of state but he didn't know anything about that. He thought about him for secretary of the treasury but he didn't know anything about finance. So he made him secretary of agriculture because he knew less about agriculture than anything."

Triplett told his audience that he was happy to see them doing things for themselves "instead of going to the government."

"The government hasn't got a penny that we don't give them." he declared. "We send in a dollar and get back 30 cents. The people of the US are the tax payers of this country."

Triplett noted that many things are being charged to the farm program that shouldn't be charged there. He cited the school lunch program and "foreign give aways" as examples.

In a business meeting, Emil Olson and Bill Patke were re-elected to the board of directors. Olson currently is serving as board president.

Other directors include Ralph Ruthart, secretary; and Forrest Gruner, Newton Crain, Bradley Burrus and Victor Hill.

Bob Brown, auditor from Amarillo, told the gathering that total earnings for the firm during the past year came to $114,048.

Arnold Prichard, manager, made a brief report on the firm's operations for the past year.

Prichard introduced Bob Brockman, assistant manager, and other employees and their wives. Tom Jones, representing Southern Farm Supply, spoke briefly.

Bill Lane, with PGC, told of a large grain terminal to be erected at Plainview.

Also introduced were George Jones of PGC and Jim Austin of Southern Farm Supply.

Fossil Bones Found By WT Geology Student

Bones from several extinct animals including a mammoth, were found last week by Jim Conners in a road side ditch west of Canyon. Conners is a graduating geology student at West Texas University in Canyon.

Buried in association with a layer of volcanic ash laid down in prehistoric times from a huge volcano in northern Mexico, the bones were excavated by a select group of paleontology students under the direction of Jack Hughes, who is the head of the geology department of WTU and the curator of paleontology at the Panhandle Plains Museum in Canyon.

The first bone to come to light from the excavations was one of the huge tusks of the mammoth. The ivory tusk was laying on its side with a layer of calcarious matrix or natural cement partially covering and protecting it from the weather.

Under the front end of the tusk, buried in the white volcanic ash were round irregular shaped bones that Hughes said may have come from the ear of the mammoth. Teeth from extinct horses and small mammals were also found near and under the tusk.

Other pieces of bones, one a piece of the back bone from a coyote like animal, were also found in the excavation.

Bone fragments from extinct turtles, horses, the mammoth, the coyote-like animal and other smaller mammals were found in the area.

Fragments from the tusk were washed down the roadside for a distance of several yards where recent rains had exposed the bones to the surface.

Hughes said the mammoth had probably died on the edge of an old lake bed and was covered up with the volcanic ash which blew over portions of the entire Great Plains from the big Mexican volcano.

Though most of the bones at the site were exposed by the students, none were removed as the motive for the excavation was exploratory and not to remove the bones. They were carefully covered with dirt by the students when the excavation was finished.

Pictures of the position of the bones will serve to record their history as well as their removal. The bones will also make good outdoor classroom exhibits for future paleontology classes.

Modern Fire Equipment Gives Area Protection

BY JIM THOMAS

Primary mission of the Canyon Fire Department, made up of 30 members, is to make Canyon and Randall County safe from fire.

Members of the department, except for Captain Joe Rice, donate their time.

The fire department is run on a Democratic basis with a fire chief and officers elected by the fire fighters at their regular annual meeting and election.

This year the chief is Bill Sternenberg. His assistant fire chief is Velton Sorgee.

Sternenberg, who has more than 17 years experience fighting fires in the Canyon area, was elected chief in January.

His responsibility as chief is directing the fire fighting operations of the volunteers. He usually does his directing from the department's new Emergency Unit which is a station wagon equipped with the latest in short wave radio communications equipment, emergency first aid gear, siren and lights and loud speaker system.

Sternenberg is the man directly responsible for the fire department's participation in emergencies.

Velton Sorgee, a carpenter of ten years fire fighting experience, as assistant fire chief is the man to take over the reins of the department in the event Sternenberg is put out of action or unable to attend a fire call. His responsibility is to see that the firemen's efforts are co-ordinated with the chief's directions. He usually rides to a fire with the chief in the emergency unit.

Other positions in the department include that of fire marshal, a job presently held by Jack Jennings. His job as fire marshal is checking new construction and existing buildings and places of business for fire hazards. He is supposed to see that hazards are removed. The fire marshal is also the man responsible for determining the cause of a fire, whether it started from natural causes, human carelessness or at the hand of an arsonist.

Officers of the department are Roland Hicks, president, D. B. Lowes, vice-president; and Jim Christopher, secretary-treasurer. The officers conduct their meetings at the regular Wednesday drills, handling their business transactions at that time.

The Canyon Volunteer Fire Department is one of the oldest in the Panhandle having been formed in the early 1900's. At that time the department was housed in an old tin barn behind what is now the Olympic Theater on the square.

In the beginning days of the department the firemen operated with a two-wheel wooden cart, hand-pulled and carrying a small tank of water with a hand-operated pump and short hose.

Old timers said that when they had a fire they would grab the cart and take off running down the street as hard as they could go, according to Rice.

The department moved from its tin barn to a small brick building beside the present American Legion building. The department shared the building with the city and county police departments as well as the city and county jails. A sign warning people not to talk with jail prisoners can still be seen on the back of the building which fronts on 16th Street.

The fire department moved from the brick building on 16th Street to their present location on Third Avenue by the city water tower in 1952 when the city built a wide one-story building for the department. The second floor of the department building, which houses the fire captain and his family, was added on later.

The Canyon firemen have answered 151 fire calls in 1962--77 in the city and 66 in the county plus 8 emergency unit calls.

The Fire department managed to save much of the downtown business district on June 26, 1962, when White Auto Store on Fourth Avenue caught fire. Fire Captain Rice said that fire endangered the whole business block and could possibly have spread to other blocks.

To date this year the department has answered 75 county fire calls mostly grass fires and 45 city fire calls with 7 emergency calls.

Rice said there have been no major fires to date in the city though there have been 2 major fires in the county. These occurred when the Uhlman Grain Elevator in Umbarger caught fire January 29 and when the Clifford Prichard home south of Canyon caught fire and burned January 14 in sub-freezing temperatures. The Junior Wolfington house also burned January 29.

The volunteer firemen earn one dollar per fire they attend as well as one dollar per drill. The money goes into a department fund and is used for maintaining the equipment and purchasing new tools, trucks and safety equipment.

The firemen are called to a drill or fire by a series of blasts on the four sirens located around the city at strategic places.

Two blasts between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. four blasts between 6:00 p.m. and 8:00 a.m. and four blasts on Sunday and holidays all signal the firemen to a fire.

Eight blasts of the siren anytime signal a "Take Cover" period due to the approach of a tornado or other major disaster. Six blasts anytime mean all clear. The department's four sirens are located at the downtown city water tower, the junior high school and the elementary school and on 23rd Street and Sixth Avenue.

The Canyon fire insurance key rate as set by the Texas State Board of Insurance, is 24¢ which is a little better than the state average, according to Rice.

The fire department has two phones listed. For fire only is OL5-2158 and for business calls only is OL5-4741. Rice says that several persons have used the business phone number to try to report a fire and found no one to answer the phone. "They should use the fire call number when reporting a fire," he said.

The history of Canyon Fire Department spans the era from the hand pumper to this modern array of equipment. Canyon now boasts one of the most modern volunteer fire departments in the Texas Panhandle. Incidentally, the department is one of the Panhandle's oldest.

Amphitheater Designs To Be Put On Display

Design drawings for plaques at the entrance of the amphitheater in Palo Duro Canyon will be exhibited in the foyer of the Amarillo City Auditorium May 16-18 during the run of "My Fair Lady" and thereafter for graduation guests.

Drawings of the first place and honorable mention winners in county competitions recently completed will be on exhibit. Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation sponsored the contests and were assisted by the Federated Women's Clubs and the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

Billy Cawthon was the winner from Randall County. His drawing will be exhibited along with the students who received honorable mention in the contests. The honorable mention drawings from Randall County were entered by Bob Haggard, Joy Harter and Jan Jennings.

The winning designs will be carved in stone and mounted on the new outdoor theater in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Drawn by high school students, the designs represent the outstanding characteristic of each of the 41 Panhandle counties entered in the contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Latham, representing the Fine Arts Council of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, handled the details for the contest which began last January.

The contest was part of the Panhandle-wide program of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation for preserving the heritage of the north plains. A musical drama designed around the history of the area from Indian days will be produced at the amphitheater. Numerous descendants of settler families are underwriting the cost of various units of the theater and the production as memorials to their pioneer forbears.

The drama, which will have some resemblance to the all-time-favorite musical "Oklahoma," is now being written by Paul Green. His "Lost Colony" at Roanoke County, North Carolina, and "The Common Glory" at Williamsburg, Virginia, are only two of the nine outdoor dramas now running in the United States. The Pulitzer-Prize-winning author has several others in the planning stage. Some of his productions have been running since 1944.

Musical score for the Palo Duro Canyon production is being written by Issac Van Grove, Hollywood composer-director, who has helped with Green's other productions. Professional actors and singers will perform in the production.

Mrs. Ples Harper is president of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation and 75 Amarillo, Canyon, and Panhandle area men and women serve on the board of directors. The Heritage office is located at 416 16th Street in Canyon. Box 268 is the mailing address. Mrs. Edith Echardt is the executive secretary for the Heritage Foundation.

Minister Says Chinese Believe Zero Hour Near

BY TROY MARTIN

Chinese on Formosa are convinced that the hour of their return to the mainland of China is at hand.

This is the information brought back from that island by Dr. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of Canyon First Baptist Church who has just returned from participation in the New Life Movement in the Orient.

Atkinson said that Chiang Kai Shek, leader of the Nationalist Chinese, enjoys the respect and confidence of those who live on Formosa.

Atkinson left Amarillo April 8 and was in the Orient a month preaching in churches in Japan and on Formosa. He also visited in Hong Kong, British Crown Colony.

He left here on a Monday and arrived in Tokyo Wednesday. His party of about 26 persons was met at the airport by Coleman Clark, veteran missionary who was born in Japan and who has lived there all his life.

The group grabbed a couple of hours of sleep at the Okura Hotel and then began some three days of orientation in which they learned some of the Japanese customs and also learned to speak through an interpreter.

Then 12 of the party flew to Kokura on the southern island of Kyushui. They were assigned churches. They were met by people with large bouquets of flowers.

"They just weight you down with flowers," said Atkinson. "They are a very hospitable people." The ministers were taken to a hotel for conferences with various Japanese pastors and their schedules for the week were outlined.

Atkinson preached for the church at Tomino Easter Sunday. It was a formal service. That evening he spoke to an overflow crowd of high school and college youngsters in an evangelistic service.

Tuesday and Wednesday he preached at a mission of the church. The mission was housed in a small building that would accomodate only about 75 people.

Atkinson said people crowded around the doors and windows to hear what was said.

The following Tuesday, Atkinson took a train to Kokura which is an industrial city sometimes called the Pittsburg of Japan. He spoke at a suburbs Lions Club and noted that the projects of the Lions Club there were about the same as Lions Club projects in this country.

He said members of the club were especially interested in how teenagers live in America That Wednesday Atkinson was speaker at a middle school, high school. He talked to about 650 boys and girls who sat in rapt attention on tatomi mats.

He noted that the Japanese girls are beautiful of features and wear no makeup. He said he learned that Japanese like natural colors.

The Japanese children wanted to know about school life in the United States. He learned that Japanese high school children go to school 10 months out of the year. Tuesdays through Saturdays.

The younsters wanted to know about dating in this country. In Japan teenagers are not allowed to date, although they are having a lot more freedom since World War II. The youngsters were also interested in American customs.

Atkinson said television is having an effect upon the customs in Japan. Older folks are finding it hard to change the old patterns.

Atkinson said he learned that young men in Japan marry at about 27 years of age while girls marry at 23 to 25. He noted that this is primarily for economic reasons.

Atkinson said he found Japanese youth very well mannered and disciplined. "There is very little juvenile delinquency in Japan," he declared. "They don't have much spare time. They either are studying or working."

"The people are very interested in Christianity and are very receptive to the gospel," Atkinson declared.

He spoke to a group of 120 nurses in a hospital, about 90 per cent of whom were either Bhuddists, shintoists or had no religion.

"The majority heard the Bible read that day for the first time in their lives," the minister related. "All of these manifested great interest in the Christian faith and asked many questions about it."

Atkinson spoke one afternoon to about 75 kindergarten mothers. They were interested in knowing about family life and child care in this country. Many mothers in Japan work and leave their children in kindergarten schools during the day.

Rev. Atkinson concluded his services the following Sunday evening. "There had been 230 decisions made," he said, "With 116 of these by baptism."

"One of the striking things about additions to the church," Atkinson went on, "was that the majority of them were men."

He said he preached to all classes. "Some of the most prominent men in the city were present and became members of the church. There was absolutely no class distinction. The president of a steel company sat next to a rickshaw boy."

Atkinson said his party was invited into homes and observed the traditional tea ceremony. He also took meals with a family.

"We ate all the famous Japanese dishes," he related, "and enjoyed most of them except the raw fish. I had a little trouble when I saw a live shrimp on my plate."

Not wishing to offend his host, Atkinson ate the raw fish.

"The Japanese are the most gracious people I have ever known," the minister asserted. "They were very apologetic about the war."

The minister said everything was humming in Japan. There is an industrial revolution going on there. He said the standard of living has been increased 100 per cent during the past few years and Japanese hope to raise it another 100 percent during the next 10 years.

Tokyo is getting ready for the Olympics next year. Streets are being widened and 12,000 additional hotel rooms are being prepared. Atkingson said there is absolutely no signs of the war left in the capitol city.

Speaking of the Baptist New Life Movement, Atkinson declared, "This has been one of the most highly successful things church-wise that has ever happened in Japan."

Rev. Atkinson was joined by Mrs. Atkinson and Dr. Leta Boswell for the tour of Hong Kong. There they saw a palling poverty and the stench was almost unbearable. Refugees from Red China have deluged the colony and children are starving in the streets.

They live in cardboard hovels and subsist on garbage.

From Hong Kong, Atkinson flew to Formosa where he was met by Dr. C. L. Culpepper, missionary to China for 38 years. Mrs. Atkinson and Dr. Boswell returned home and Rev. Atkinson remained at Taipei, Formosa.

Some 14 ministers began the "Crusade" the following Sunday, finally preaching in 28 churches and 14 chapels on Formosa.

Atkinson said he found the Chinese people very cordial and receptive. He preached in Taipei, capitol city of Formosa with a population of a million.

The city is alive with activity, he declared. Ox carts, taxicabs, rickshaws and pedicabs jostle each other in the streets. "Horns are used more often than brakes," Atkinson related.

Streets abound with shops and open air restaurants. Book stores are plentiful. There is 93 percent literacy and the people are hungry for something to read.

Atkinson said there is no unemployment on Formosa.

"Every farmer has a chance to own a plot of ground," he said. "The island is a garden. It is the most beautiful island in the world. Every inch of tillable ground is cultivated.

While on Formosa, Atkinson met Tolly Buie, brother-in-law of Aubrey Crossland. Buie is a Taichung with an agriculture mission.

The island of Formosa is 220 miles long and 90 miles wide with a population of 11,000,000. Of this number some 300,000 are aborigines who live up in the mountains, 7,000,000 are Formosans and the remainder are Chinese who fled the mainland ahead of the Reds.

Atkinson's interpreter is the pastor of Chiang Kai Shek, who attends an interdenominational church.

One of the most interesting incidents of the trip was Atkinson's meeting with three nationalist Chinese generals. One of them invited him to speak at Shanghai Middle School, established by alumni of Shanghae University.

"Don't worry about us going communist," Atkinson said people in all walks of life told him in the Orient. "America will go communist before we do."

Atkinson quoted missionaries as saying that the "Crusade" set their work ahead at least 10 years as more than 2,000 were converted on Formosa.

Atkinson arrived back in Amarillo at 2 o'clock Wednesday of last week. "It's a great thrill to be home," he declared.

Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of Canyon First Baptist Church, is shown here with Shuichi Matsumura, pastor of Tokiwadai Baptist Church in Tokyo and director of Japanese New Life Movement. Rev. Atkinson took part as a speaker in the movement in Japan and on Formosa.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Schnack recently was his grandmother, Mrs. J. D. Lane, of Salem, Oregon.

Louise Knox, secretary at the Farm Bureau Office in Canyon, attended the Office Secretaries Seminar in Waco.

The meeting was held May 5-8 with approximately 90 attending from the state.

Around The Town (With Kids)

Larry Prichard and I went on a bike hike Sunday. We went to the Corral and the University Library. We had a lot of fun and went to a whole lot of places. We rode around for nearly two and a half hours. We didn't have a bit of trouble with our tires, either!

A couple of weeks ago Mrs. Moreman's class, at school, sent off to California to buy some so-called giant ants. When they got here the children were very disappointed to find ants about three fourths the size of a Texas red ant. Mrs. Moreman told the children not to be too disappointed and maybe they will grow some. Well, they didn't grow so they got the vial the ants came in and went out onto the school ground and filled the vial with baby red ants and sent the vial back to the company.

Well, a few days ago the class received a letter from the company. Here is some of the general comment around the office:

We ought to move our ant farm business to Texas. (Boss's comment)

Those ants could use our ants for spit-balls. (Sales manager)

Those Texans, always trying to top everything. (native of Alaska)

I told 'em so! (secretary from Texas)

Those are just a few but I thought they were sort of funny.

The ants are now in Mrs. Moreman's ant farm in her room.

One more week of school, then out for the summer! When you go on your vacation, always remember to do things safely and obey all the safety rules at home or anywhere.

Awards Passed Out At CHS Annual FFA Banquet

Achievement awards and honorary memberships were given out Thursday at the annual FFA parents and son banquet at the Canyon High School cafeteria.

Robert Ham, senior Canyon Chapter FFA secretary, received an award for farm mechanics; Bill Richey received an award for farm safety; John Cummins for dairy farming; Billy Stocker for livestock farming; Bill Miller for farm electrification; Larry Robinson for star greenhand farmer and Charles Evers for star chapter farmer.

Noble Brown, Frank Ham, Glen Evans and Wesley Cox were installed as honorary members of the Canyon chapter of the FFA. The memberships were the recognition of the chapter for the help the new members had given the FFA boys at the high school.

Toastmaster for the banquet was Charles Evers, senior student at CHS and president of the Canyon FFA chapter. Invocation was by Claiborn Crain, junior student and one of the FFA officers.

The FFA boys and their parents and guests were served fried chicken with chicken gravy, mashed potatoes, green and red beans, a green salad, hot rolls and coffee and tea.

An FFA business meeting was also held at the banquet. A welcoming address was given to the group by Bill Richey, a sophomore student at CHS and next year's president of the Canyon FFA chapter.

Each FFA boy introduced his parents to the other guests after which Charles Evers made a talk on the FFA creed, its principles, philosphies and its future.

This talk was followed by farming reports by John Cummins, senior FFA student at CHS.

The members and guests were told of the awards and achievements the Canyon FFA chapter has received throughout the year for local, district, regional and state FFA competitions.

The Canyon chapter won first place in the greenhand division of the chapter conducting competitions at the district contests held in Dumas. They also placed second at the Dumas contests with their radio broadcasting team. The Canyon FFA chapter senior farm demonstration team placed fourth at Dumas and the junior greenhand farm skills team placed third.

The Canyon chapter took the winning team from the Dumas district contest to the area I regional contests in Plainview where the Canyon FFA chapter junior and senior chapter conducting teams won a second and a first place, respectively.

The first place team from the Plainview contest was then taken to the state FFA contests held at Sam Houston State College in Huntsville where they won a third place in the state competitions.

The third place win against 40,000 other FFA boys across the state means there are only 20 FFA boys in the state out of the 40,000 that rated better than the Canyon team.

Hales Chief Nangram, a four year old owned by Richmond Hales of Canyon, produced 14,210 pounds of milk and 548 pounds of butterfat in 287 days. These figures compare with the national average annual output of 7,211 pounds of milk and 270 pounds of butterfat for American dairy cattle.

Royal Star Gracious Ruby, also a four-year-old, produced 22,610 pounds of milk and 806 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. Cherry Valley Prof Audrey, a five year old, produced 17,846 pounds of milk and 620 pounds of butterfat in 365 days while Prairie Sage Raven Flossy, a two year old, produced 15,816 pounds of milk and 575 pounds of butterfat in 360 days. All are owned by Louis G. Hinders of Canyon.

Palo Duro Golden Bell Inka, a four year old owned by Donald Schaeffer of Happy, produced 19,456 pounds of milk and 811 pounds of butterfat in 365 days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Rice visited in Pampa recently with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vanderburg, and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Vanderburg.

FREE AGRICULTURE?

"WHY not execute 10% of American farmers each year—and continue this slaughter until crop production is reduced to the desired level? This process would be as 'constitutional' as the present allotment programs—and besides it would save taxpayers six billion dollars a year."

These are strong words by Loren Gajewski, an Alexander, N.D. wheat farmer. He said them while on trial before a Federal Court in Minot, N.D. Gajewski, another farmer fighting for freedom to farm at the risk of losing everything, has already received a two-year prison sentence for what Federal attorneys and USDA call, "attempting to impede and defeat the Agricultural Adjustment Act." Out now on $5,000 bond, Gajewski, and farmers like him across the nation, are making their voices heard in opposition to any more control programs—particularly wheat, since a do-or-die referendum is pending.

His fight is unusual for several reasons. Most important: the prison sentence looming over his wary head is the first we know of handed down for violations of governmental farm programs. Legislation hasn't yet been passed by Congress making it a criminal offense to disregard acreage allotments. (The '64 wheat program, if the referendum passes, provides for penalties of up to $10,000 and up to 10 years in prison for wheat allotment "violations.")

Furthermore, Gajewski maintains the original family land patents grant the owner the "right to do with, as he sees fit" his acreage—and that the owner is responsible to no one for the use he makes of his land.

Gajewski angrily denies USDA charges that he has overseeded his wheat lands since 1954—a charge which resulted in the prison sentence. "Impossible," he declares. "The farm in question has been growing wheat since the early 1900's. And the people who farmed the land before we bought it in 1948 gave us signed affidavits to this effect."

"Each year I planted about the same acreage to wheat as had the previous operators—yet in 1957 the McKenzie County ASCS office decided this farm had no wheat history. They said it was "virgin sod" up to 1954—that not one grain of wheat had ever been produced on this farm.

"But remember, all this took place in 1957 after I had grown four consecutive crops. And during the period 1954-57, never had ASCS sent out any notice saying my acreage seeded was in excess. In fact, ASCS never said a word about my plantings and never even came out to meausre the acreage. And they waited another two years before making an issue of their charges."

It wasn't 'til January, 1959 that Loren Gajewski and his brother Mervin received allotment notices through the mail for wheat grown in 1954 through 1957—and at the same time, were assessed penalties of over $5,000 for violations of allotments during the past six years.

The court refused to admit mitigating testimony involving the local ASCS office activities under command of office manager Marvin Thill.

At the trial over this unheard of "assessment" by an ASCS committee, U.S. Attorney John Garass said, for the record, "The Gajewski land has never been measured, nor have any excess allotment notices been sent out prior to 1959." But, added Garass, "The court has no jurisdiction over ASCS determinations and therefore the question of legality of their determinations is 'immaterial'."

Garass, representing the district of North Dakota, told Gajewski after the trial, "This office has no control provided by law over the various ASCS committees of the Department of Agriculture. If you are dissatisfied with their rulings, I suggest you take whatever steps are provided by law for appeal or rehearings."

If the Justice Department has no control over what ASCS committees and office managers decide to do—right or wrong—who does? Gajewski counters. (And it is a good question. Do you know what court would hear your plea since Federal courts refuse to admit evidence that might show ASCS in error?)

"Of course," says Gajewski, "I had a trial by jury. But the constitutional right of every American of a trial by jury was denied by the simple expedient of the court's refusing to charge the jury with any question which might enable them to recognize the historic wheat base of a farm."

A long-time friend and government-in-agriculture fighter, Lawrence Naaden, claims: "ASCS thus broke its own regulations in establishing farm allotments, quotas and farm marketing excesses years after they should have been issued. Those charges against ASCS were spelled out in Gajewski's appeal, but were denied by the court on the same grounds—that it could not rule on whether ASCS had made these determinations legally or illegally.

"In other words, if ASCS were as corrupt as sin—which it is—none of their proven illegal acts could be told to the jury. Of what value is a court that cannot, or will not, hear both sides of a case—especially when fraud on the part of the plantiff (ASCS in this case) is admitted and stipulated as a matter of court record? If Gajewski's shoddy treatment at the hands of Federal Courts is any indication of what is in store for other American farmers—and non-farmers—we surely have lost all our freedom," says Naaden.

"In observing this case," says Dr. Robert Morris, President of Defenders of American Liberties, "it is most important that Americans everywhere realize and recognize the fact that the courts say they cannot rule on decisions made by ASCS, regardless of how fraudulent such determinations may be."

"In essence this whole thing is rotten," says another of Gajewski's farmer-friends, Leo Landsberger of Hazelton, N.D. "I fully believe that if ASCS ruled the moon is made of green cheese the court would have to rule that, as a matter of law, the ASCS committee was right—even though the evidence to support their findings was arrived at from the back steps of the ASCS office."

HUNTING, FISHING AND CONSERVATION

The swallows of Capistrano have nothing on the swallows of the Texas Panhandle. For more years than anyone can remember, cliff swallows have come to the head of Timber Canyon each Spring to build their feather lined mud nests on the canyon walls and raise their young.

Careful observers can see these cliff-side houses perched some two hundred feet above the canyon floor if they will look at the west wall of the very head of Timber Canyon as it crosses the Palo Duro Road about a mile west of Palo Duro State Park entrance.

In one place, the swift flying birds have built a mud colony of nests several hundred feet above the bottom of the canyon where not even the most sure-footed cat or mouse could reach. The only way to the nests is to fly. There just aren't any footholds to walk on.

It is also interesting to note that the colony of nests suggests a map of the United States.

Swallows of all kinds fly through Texas each spring to their winter grounds in South America and in the fall to their summer hatching grounds in Canada and the Pacific Northwest.

Some kinds of swallows, however, nest and summer in the Southwestern United States including the Panhandle of Texas. The cliff swallows near Palo Duro Canyon State Park are some of those that stay over in this country.

Many observers believe that individual pairs of swallows, mama and papa, return to the same nest each year to raise their young. It is pretty well established that the birds do return to the nesting area year after year within a day or two of the same date.

A small, fast-flying bird about 5 1/2 inches long, the cliff swallow lives almost entirely on insects it catches in the air.

To do this, the birds fly together in great swarms, following each other in formation and spread out like a great airborne vacuum cleaner, sweeping up the insects as they fly.

The swarms follow a circular path close by the canyon walls and as each bird gathers a load of insects, it peels off from the formation, stopping by its nest long enough to feed the young swallows before flying on for another load.

The best time to see the birds swarming is in the early morning hours when the sun is just beginning to light the canyon walls, or in the late evening when the walls are in soft shadow.

A small thin-winged bird, the cliff swallow has a short, square tail, a white forehead, and a buff colored rump. The fancy Latin name which ornithologists use to describe the cliff swallow is Petro chelidon pyrrhonota---a name for the purists. We'll stick with cliff swallow.

For those interested in photographing the birds, we suggest getting the land owner's permission first. We would also warn folks to keep their children in check near the birds as too much attention near the nesting area might very well cause the birds to move on to more peaceful places.

Carelessness on the part of just a few individuals can destroy these nests for generations to come. We tell the folks about these show cases of nature with faith that people will look at the birds and their nests and not destroy them.

Buffalo Lake last week received some 100,000 black bass fry from the state fish hatchery at Dundee. Folks can thank Litt Newman, supervisor of the hatchery for the transplant.

Lonnie Peters, state game and fish biologist in charge of the fish laboratory at Canyon, tells us that perhaps 50 percent of these fry will survive the predation of other fish. This will leave about 50,000 black bass to grow up into adult fish.

Peters says these new bass will help control the carp and crappie over-reproduction problems at Buffalo by eating some of the carp and crappie fry as they hatch out.

This is good because carp are the trash fish of the lake and the young crappie need thinning out to give the fish a chance to grow a little bigger. Peters says there are too many crappie in the lake and the bass transplant should help matters considerably. We surely do like to catch those bass.

Also in the mill for Buffalo Lake is a rough fish control program to be carried out through the cooperation of the federal biologists from the refuge and the Texas game and fish biologists from Canyon. More on this next week as the plans materialize.

June 13 is the tentative date set for the game and fish commission regulatory authority meeting to be held in the Randall County commissioners court room in the court house annex. The meeting is open to the public.

This will be your chance to suggest changes in or to gripe about the local game and fish laws that affect this county. We will have more on this later.

Fish biologist Peters and his hard working crew got good results from their total fish kill at Lake Pauline last week. Peters tells us the kill got all the fish in the small lake except mudcats.

He says fresh minnows and some 300,000 black bass fry will be restocked into Lake Pauline sometime this week, possibly by the time this goes to press. He expects a very low mortality with these bass fry due to the lack of predation after the total kill and because of the high food level. Catfish will be stocked in the lake in September.

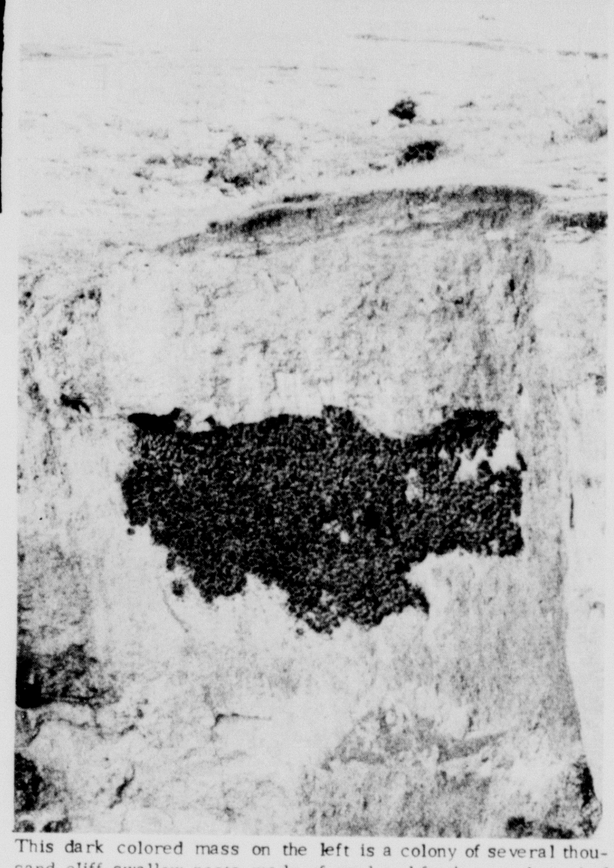

These bass should reach a fishable size by Fall of 1964 when the lake should be open for fishing. Peters said the kill at Pauline produced a few black bass over eight pounds but that the lack of young bass indicated a lack of reproduction. Some of the channel cats weighed in above 10 pounds with one going as high as 25 pounds. Several yellow cats were up around 40 to 50 pounds each. All considered, fishing should show some good times at Lake Pauline by Fall of 64.

To all who have invited us to go fishing this month we apologize. Final exams (eight of them!) are staring us in the face less than two weeks away, making May a lost cause for fishing.

We'll be more than ready to go come June. Y'all come.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Franklin and Mr. and Mrs. William Payne of Clarendon were in Happy recently to celebrate the birthday of M. C. Sluder. Also attending the event in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Counterman was Jim Sluder of Happy.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Rogers spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rogers, in Stamford.

This dark colored mass on the left is a colony of several thousand cliff swallow nests made of mud and feathers and perched high on the sheer face of a cliff in Timber Canyon. The photo was taken from across the canyon. The photo on the right is a close up of some of the swallows that have built their mud nests under a culvert that crosses the head of Timber Canyon. Broken remains of last year's nests can be seen to the right.

Frank Daugherty Is New Geology Professor

Dr. Frank Daugherty, 35, has been hired by the geology department of West Texas University as an assistant professor of geology under professor Jack Hughes, head of that department.

Daugherty, a native of Texas from the Trans-Pecos region near Alpine, will assume his duties with the university in June. He has a wife and three children.

Daugherty received his doctorate of geology from the university of Texas in 1962 after which he was employed by the Dow Chemical Company to prospect for tellurium mineral deposits in northern Mexico.

He took his masters degree work at the University of Texas and earned his bachelor of science degree in geology from Sul Ross College in Alpine.

Dr. Daugherty has had extensive experience in the fields of mining and consulting geology in the Trans-Pecos region of Texas and northern Mexico. He has also had considerable experience in the field of underground water consulting, having been responsible for the location of the underground water field that presently serves the city of Alpine. Daugherty located that field while still doing his undergraduate work at Sul Ross.

Dr. Daugherty will teach several courses in the geology department this summer, especially the freshman geology course and the advanced field geology course for geology majors.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roberts have returned from a ten-day visit to Turlock, California, where they visited with his sister, Mrs. Lillian Faulkenberry, whom he had not seen for 19 years.

Nieces of Mrs. Roberts visiting with them while in California, were Mrs. Maxine Evans and Mrs. Bobbi Jean Keener, Mrs. Roberts had not seen her nieces for 30 years.
